

Open Position: Operations Associate (San Francisco)

December 12, 2019

About HonTe

Founded in 2015, HonTe Advisors, LLC is an SF-based, discretionary global macro investment firm that focuses on long-horizon, thematic, multi-asset class investing across developed and emerging markets. Our objective is to construct a superior portfolio, which creates a revenue stream uncorrelated to traditional assets. We employ formal logic in conjunction with a rule-based trade selection process to capitalize on the relative mis-pricing of global assets.

Job Description

As part of a small and dynamic team you will be responsible for enhancing the existing operations platform here at HonTe. This will include cash & position management, reporting, counterparty relationship, technical workflow implementation as well as other ongoing strategic initiatives.

The position reports directly to our Head of Operations but has frequent exposure to cross functional projects across trading, compliance, legal, risk, fund administration and broader business growth. The role requires an entrepreneurial attitude and diligent approach towards problem solving in tandem with strong interpersonal skills.

Qualifications

- Experience in a sell/buy side trading entity or fund administrator operations role
- Product familiarity in interest rates & other global macro assets (FX, commodities, equities)
- Diligent team player with an appetite to operate autonomously as needed
- Technical systems and programming expertise
- Bachelor's degree

Compensation

- Competitive & commensurate with qualifications
- Flexible workplace environment
- Company benefits plan
